

A small increase in your contributions can make a big difference

Contributing a little more can really add up

You may think that contributing the minimum amount of $25 per paycheck to SoonerSave will be enough money to supplement your retirement. While that's a great start, contributing extra may help close the gap between your dreams and reality. The chart to the right shows how just a small (or large!) increase in your contribution level, along with the $25 state contribution and compounding over time, could potentially mean more for your future.
